PLYMOUTH CHURCH

For 70 years, Plymouth Congregational Church has progressed steadily, not only in membership but in service to the citizens of Fort Wayne. Here, in a beautiful Indiana limestone building, Plymouth members and friends find rest, repose and an opportunity to worship as they choose.

“THREE SCORE AND TEN”

DR. CHARLES M. HOUSER

“Three Score and Ten” marks a significant milestone in the history of our church. The religious and Biblical significance of this number cannot but make our celebration more meaningful.

We are humbly grateful for the splendid heritage which comes to us from the devoted ministry and membership of the past. The high traditions of their sacrificial loyalty and service are a source of pride, as well as an inspiration. It is for us, the living, to match their sacrifice and loyalty, that we may not fail to meet the challenge of present day conditions with faith and fidelity. The present is rich with opportunities. It calls us to justify our spiritual inheritance by a deeper personal allegiance to Christ and His Church, that we may build worthily today and be ready for the boundless challenge of tomorrow.

One need not emphasize the importance of religion and the Church in such a time as this. It would be difficult to imagine days of larger challenge to our faith than this year of our Anniversary. The measure and quality of our loyalty will be tested as never before and our courage and devotion proved by new crisis and the call to greater sacrifices. May our response give new meaning to our church ideal: “Every Plymouth Member Loyal.”

This anniversary booklet gives information about our membership and program. New friends, who receive it, are invited to participate in the work and worship here outlined. Every department and organization in this great church has its own interesting story, and its own friendly fellowship. There is a cordial invitation to all who read this, to unite with the church and accept the obligations and opportunities of its various activities and its splendid and exciting program. There is a place and a welcome for everyone.

My sincere appreciation goes to the members of the staff, whose loyal cooperation helps to lift the heavy burdens of multiplied responsibilities. My admiration and gratitude goes to all the members who carry the church in their hearts and through their own loyalty and devotion are writing a glorious chapter in its shining history.

1870

Plymouth Congregational Church was founded in 1870 by a small group of devout Pilgrims, who worshipped in a small building on the northeast corner of Fulton and Washington Streets. Reverend John Fairbank was called as the first pastor. Of the 30 charter members, 19 were women and 11 were men. Three of these charter members, Miss Laura Kimball, Miss May Kimball and Mrs. John Gilbert—the only ones surviving in 1916—prepared a brief review of the church history, from which much of this data is taken. At the 50th Anniversary Celebration, but two survived—Miss Laura Kimball and Mrs. John Gilbert. All are now dead.

During the first year of Rev. Fairbank's pastorate, a lot was leased on the opposite corner, and upon it a church was erected. Rev. Fairbank continued in service for five years, leaving in 1875. Rev. Anselm Brown followed and remained for one year. He was succeeded by the Rev. J. M. Seymour, to whom many attribute the first important growth period of the church. Rev. Seymour served for seven years.

Rev. H. Hazeltine of New England then received a call, and he remained for about a year and a half. After a few months without a pastor, the Rev. Jeremiah Cromer whose death here in Fort Wayne was mourned by Plymouth members within the past year, accepted a call. Rev. Cromer served for three years, until 1887, when he received a call from the Millard Avenue Church in Chicago.

Jefferson and Harrison Streets*

For three years, Plymouth Church was without a pastor. Its membership was crippled by the death and removal of many members, but prayer meetings, Bible School, missionary meetings and other activities were continued until, in 1890, the Rev. James S. Ainslie accepted a call.

1893

Rev. Ainslie was a man of vision. He immediately prevailed upon the congregation to purchase a lot at the corner of Harrison and Jefferson Streets, where the fine church pictured on this page was built and finally dedicated in 1893. The Fulton Street Church was sold to the Church of the Redeemer; was later moved to the rear of the lot and was eventually razed to make room for the Fulton Apartments. While the new church was being built, Plymouth members were very kindly allowed the use of the Jewish Synagogue.

The dedication of the Harrison Street Church was held on November 5, 1893. One of the original dedication programs is owned by D. Burns Douglass, and has been loaned to the Anniversary Committee. It shows Wm. E. Mossman, (father of B. Paul Mossman, grandfather of Wm. E. Mossman and great grandfather of our little red-headed Bobbie Mossman) as chairman of the Building Committee and member of the Board of Trustees. Other trustees at that time were George W. Pixley, Edwin Gillette, J. B. Downing and Charles M. Jones.

1900

Rev. Ainslie was one of Plymouth's most beloved pastors. He occupied the pulpit for 10 years, leaving regretfully in 1900 to accept a call in Chicago.

Rev. J. Webster Bailey was the next pastor. He served six years, leaving in 1906 to accept a call in Ottawa, Illinois. Then came Dr. Henry T. Sell, a splendid scholar, teacher and lecturer. During his stay, Mrs. Sell organized Plymouth Circle. Dr. Sell left the church on May 31, 1910. A church directory published in 1903 lists 443 members. Sixteen additional names were written in subsequent to publication.

1910

On September 1, 1910, Rev. Arthur J. Folsom began his long and faithful period of church service. Rev. Folsom came to us from the State of Washington, and remained with us for 23 years. Too much cannot be said about the splendid work of Rev. Folsom. While with us he was awarded his Doctor's degree at Marietta College, and it was during his lifetime that Plymouth Church expanded and grew until it became necessary to find larger, more complete quarters.

In August, 1916, the Church purchased the Cressler homestead at the southwest corner of Fairfield and Berry Streets, for the sum of $22,500. A church directory published in 1916 lists 815 members. In 1921, the lot adjoining on the west was purchased for $14,500, giving the church 155 x 150 feet. A document written prior to the laying of the cornerstone in 1923 gives the church membership as 1185 and the Sunday School enrollment as 630.

1924

Construction of the new, present church was completed in 1924 and dedication ceremonies were held during the week of October 5th to 12th. The church is constructed of Bedford stone (Indiana limestone), laid up in what is known as Random Ashlar. It is of English Gothic architecture.

Dr. Folsom continued in the Plymouth pastorate until the summer of 1933 when he was stricken with heart failure while working in a field on his farm northeast of the city. Mrs. Louise Folsom, his widow, is still with us, active and energetic. Her service to Plymouth has been just as outstanding as that of her distinguished husband.

1940

Rev. Charles M. Houser, our present pastor, came to us from Greeley, Colorado. It is now seven years since he first entered our service, and during that time he has received his Doctor's degree from Defiance College (1939). Dr. Houser has done much to expand Plymouth activities and influence, particularly among the young people. He has been largely responsible for organizing our present system of Guilds and Colonies, though the Women's Guild was organized many years ago. A large number of new members have been added during Dr. Houser's pastorate. Membership now totals 1805.

Plans for the future include a more comprehensive system of Religious Education and further expansion of influence with young people in the formative periods of life.

FORM—Congregationalism, as the word implies, is church government by the congregation. Each church enjoys full autonomy. It elects its own officers, determines its own constitution and by-laws, formulates or adopts its own covenant of mutual relations. It calls its own minister. Ultimate authority in all of its own interests, resides in the whole body of the membership of each church, not in any ecclesiastical body exterior to the church. It works, however, in close association with a great body of Congregational-Christian Churches throughout the world, cooperating for religious work and fellowship, acknowledging only Christ as authoritative Head.

ORIGIN—Congregational Churches were first organized in England in the Sixteenth Century, in revolt against state control of religious worship, in the demand for personal Christian experience, and in an effort to reproduce New Testament simplicity and democracy.

IDEALS—Democratic life and organization, simplicity and vitality of faith, intellectual freedom, educational efficiency, evangelistic purpose, missionary zeal, social passion, unsectarian fellowship, unselfish devotion to the extension of the Kingdom.

PRACTICE—Congregational Churches emphasize beliefs in which all evangelical Christians agree, exalt nothing trivial or sectarian, repudiate dogmatism and all legislative control, ecclesiastical or civic, of the spiritual life, and seek union of all churches, on the basis of mutual freedom and fellowship. Their rule of action is "In essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty, in all things charity."

ACHIEVEMENTS—The old world and the new are indebted chiefly to Congregationalism for the establishment and progress of the principle of religious toleration. Congregationalism sailed to America in the Mayflower as the church of the Pilgrim Fathers. Settling first at Plymouth, then later fusing with the Puritan colonists that followed them, these founders of Congregationalism spread over New England, and through their democratic ideals laid the foundations for the free church, the free state, the free school, and the free social life of our country. The Congregational churches have been the pioneer Protestant churches of our nation in the promotion of education, missions, evangelism, and in most movements for Christian union, religious progress, and moral reform.

STRENGTH—In the United States, 6,109 churches, 1,030,900 members. In the world, 24,589 churches, 2,394,317 members.

FREEDOM—The Congregational-Christian Churches are therefore free churches in the best sense of that term. Unhampered by dead traditions, their fellowship offers the freest working conditions for Christian union, for adjustment to modern needs, for liberty of conscience and for warmth of friendly cooperative work and worship.

THE CHURCH STAFF

Plymouth Church has an efficient, harmonious, hard working staff, composed of four full-time workers and one part-time worker.

Miss Iva Wonn, Director of Religious Education came to us in 1938 from nine successful years in Toledo. She holds her Master's degree from Boston University in the field of Religious Education, and under her leadership the Church School has grown in both numbers and efficiency, and the young people's work has been greatly expanded.

Miss Esther Louraine, our Church Secretary, keeps the membership records, edits "The Bell" and weekly bulletin, and cares for the endless secretarial details which make the church office such a busy place.

Mrs. Wilma Coil is the Financial Secretary, giving splendid assistance to the Colony organization and to the pastor.

Mrs. Charles O. Gunn is giving part time to the work of Plymouth Visitor, carrying the friendliness of the church to new families. She is already a welcome guest in many Plymouth homes.

Mr. Charles Niemeyer, custodian, helped to build the church and has been caring for it ever since. He is the oldest in point of service of any member of the staff.

Tribute should also be paid to Mrs. Robert P. Cordiner who served faithfully as church secretary for 14 years from 1922 until 1936.

PLYMOUTH COLONIES

During the past year Plymouth Church members have been grouped in "Colonies" according to their residence in the city. The map above shows the boundaries of the various colonies, and on the opposite page is a chart showing the organization of these colonies.

The purpose of the colony set-up is to bring Plymouth members closer together so that group work may be simplified, and so that new members may become quickly and easily assimilated.

Social gatherings and work on church projects are already under way in most of the colonies. Every church member automatically belongs to the colony in which he resides.
